Opening of Spring footwear

The displays reveal the correct fashions in women's, misses' and children's footwear

While it has become a matter of custom for people to look to this store to see the newest ideas in footwear, there is something besides style in our shoes, and that something is SERVICE. Footwear that leaves this store is sold with the understanding that if it is defective in material or workmanship, we are here to make it good. Our shoe business is growing by leaps and bounds, necessitating the enlarging of the department to nearly twice its original size.

The Opening brings to your attention the correct styles in new low shoes; some are of patent; others of dull leather with cloth or kid quarters in the new shades of sand, putty and gray. The prevailing modes have medium toes and leather Louis heels. Prices range from $8 to $12.50. —First Floor

Lovely new serge dresses, $4.98

come in all the stylish shades—
Belgian blue, sand, putty, black

You will hardly believe your eyes when you see these and find that the price is only $4.98. They are made of a splendid quality of serge in simple and attractive styles, such as many will want for street, afternoon and business wear. We have them in all sizes.

$2.95 for dress skirts

Values up to $15

100 in the lot. These were among the last of our winter skirts to come in, which accounts for their still being here. The most of them can with very little trouble be fixed over to give the latest effect in style, and the low price at which you can now buy them justifies taking the trouble. There are navies, blacks and browns in a variety of excellent materials. —Third Floor

Silk waists at $4.50 and $5.95

Crepe de chine waists in plain white ground with stripes in sand, blue and black, some are in the new "candy" stripe in many different shades; sizes 34 to 44; for Saturday, $4.50 and $5.95.

"Double Service" dresses, 98c

On and off like a coat and only one button to fasten; all sizes; usually $1.50, Saturday 98c

Crepe de chine waists in flesh, corn, white, sand and putty shades; high or low necks; some have hand-embroidered fronts; long sleeves; 34 to 44; $5 and $5.95. —Fourth Floor

Pongee waists at $2.50

Beautiful line of pongee and Jap silk waists in plain and striped patterns; new collars, either in low or high military effect; long sleeves; $2.50.

New millinery

Military—is the reigning note—those "L'il Sojer" hats have captured the favor of the fashionable. Many of the new hats are worn with veils. It is surprising how an almost invisible thing like a veil on a hat will give an air of correctness to the entire costume. The new "Tipperary" turbans and little satin or silk sailors are especially fascinating with the veil. Sometimes the veil is under the trimming—sometimes over it. Always it flows from the face. These come in Army red, Regimental blue, Battleship gray, black and white. There is the "Tommy Atkins" turban and the Belgian Forage cap ideas together with numerous other charming adaptations of French and German military headdress. Prices range from $4.98 to $10

Hats trimmed free

We now have in connection with our Millinery Room on the second floor a section devoted exclusively to untrimmed millinery. When shape and all materials are chosen in this section, no charge will be made for trimming. The work will be done in our regular work room by skilled trimmers. —Second Floor

AT THE ILLINOIS.

Local playgoers promise to give "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" an enthusiastic reception upon her return to the Illinois Sunday.

Mrs. Wiggs is always a welcome visitor. Ever since the cabbage patch in Louisville she has made thousands of friends, and the droll philosophy of this feminine optimist has carried around the world. Book plays are not as a rule long-lived, but "Mrs. Wiggs" bids fair to run for a generation. It is already an American humorous classic, and as the public waited for a great woman humorist, so, too, they will cling long to such a striking conception as that of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and the satellites of good humor and innocent jollity around her.

The play itself is clean, fresh and morally uplifting. The comedy interest centers in the mirth-provoking episode of Mr. Stubbins and his matrimonial designs upon little Miss Hazy, the meek and shiftless neighbor of Mrs. Wiggs. Both characters are intensely humorous and altogether original. The impersonation of Miss Hazy has proven a perfectly fitting visa-ry to that of Hiram Stubbins, who in the first act wooed and wins her, then falls from grace and disappears for a time from the patch, though not of his own volition; but, on his return, thanks to his brilliant war record and pension allowance, is once more received by his wife and friends and made the hero of the closing scenes. These two characters are well-springs of laughter and are secondary only of course to that of Mrs. Wiggs herself, whose homely philosophy and cheerful temperament, added to her genius, practical piety, prove an inspiration and an object lesson to all. The play may lack all the stage technique characteristic of the modern drama, but its popularity is none the less, on that account and, indeed, it has already taken its place in the front rank of domestic comedies. It is a humorous classic in which Mrs. Wiggs, Hiram Stubbins and Miss Hazy are the bright particular stars, surrounded by a group of brilliant satellites. The play will be presented here under the management of the United Play company.

At the Colonial.

William Farnum, who will appear at the Colonial theatre tomorrow needs no introduction to the people of Rock Island who will remember him in "The Spoilers," where his acting was considered a masterpiece. Farnum, besides possessing wonderful dramatic ability, is also endowed with great physical power which he always makes use of in the climaxes he takes part in. The realistic fight in "The Spoilers" was truly a gruelling affair, but in "Samson" he takes a step further when, infuriated by the duplicity of his wife, he breaks in the door of her room with his bare fist. Farnum's stage success started with the role of "Ben Hur," which he originated and his last triumph was "The Little Rebel," which is still familiar to all theatre goers.

AT THE EMPIRE.

The Oliver Players scored in the production of "The Vinegar Buyer" at the matinee and evening performances yesterday. The cream of the amateur talent of the three cities was present and the fun was fast and furious. Beginning at the Sunday matinee "The Village Schoolmaster" will be presented. All special scenery is being painted for this play and in the funny school room scene 20 people will be used.

AT THE COLUMBIA.

The original Borsini troupe features the bill the last half of this week at the Columbia theatre in Davenport. There are three men and two women in this act, and all perform feats on immense wooden globes that have not been seen here before. The act is said to be one of the greatest on the vaudeville circuits in Europe. Harry Richards and Bessie Kyle have a brand new stunt in Mr. and Mrs. Nifty in "Fifty-Fifty." Lulu McConnell and Grant Simpson present their latest one-act comedy, "At Home." They are assisted by Lawrence Simpson. Their act is different from the ordinary plots and they show a bit of home life of the actor. The play is replete with funny sayings, but ends in pathos. Sid Lewis, the brainless wonder, in "Let Him Rave," pays his first visit to the tri-city. He carries a full line of original jokes, and his act ends in a very unexpected manner. Miss Selbini opens the program. She is an acrobat and juggler of note and is ably assisted by a partner.

Ohio leads the states in the value of its clay products and in the manufacture of grinders and pulpstones, and ranks fourth in the value of its total mineral production.

HERE IS MEASURE OF MODEL HUBBY

MRS. HAWKINS M. WHITE SUBMITS FIVE SHEETS OF RULES TO COURT.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 26.—Hawkins M. White of 6211 West Eddy street shuddered when he saw his wife's list of rules for a model husband. The list covered five sheets of paper and she presented them in the court of domestic relations with a demand that he sign the articles and live up to them. White was arraigned on a charge of contributing to the dependency of his five children.

Here are some of the regulations: "After prayer and careful consideration before the committee of Pastor Dent and Deacon Myer I have agreed to live with Hawkins M. White under these terms only, namely:

"That my children should be taught to honor and obey their mother in all things, as well as their father, without any interference from relatives.

"That husband should love and protect his wife as himself and not be afraid to give her assistance when she needs it, and should not carry his wife's canned goods to his mother when they belong to his wife.

"That he should be willing to allow his wife to go once or twice to church on Sunday and once or twice during the week and should take her out occasionally to social gatherings as well as to the deacon's meeting.

"That he should eat most of his meals at home, where he belongs, and not be continually absenting himself during meal times. That he should look more after his wife's welfare and comfort by being sweet in temper, tough and tone, thereby making home, sweet home, by keeping all trouble out and turning a deaf ear to any who wish to bring discord into the family, nor should he feed his family on stale biscuits, bread, meat scraps, tainted meat or rotten bananas.

"That a husband should not make a habit of running up grocery bills or any other bills or borrowing money from relatives, as this is a bad habit.

"That a husband should tell the truth at all times and not try to blacken his wife's reputation and character or try to torment her in any way by hurling scripture at her when she is singing or by making insinuations when he is teaching in his own Sunday school class.

"That a husband should try to make his home as attractive as possible and not store the pantry, bathroom and kitchen with unnecessary rubbish, but should rather use his barn or shed as his laboratory; neither should he spit upon the floor or the stove, as is Mr. White's habit.

"That my husband should teach Grace and Joseph to assist a little at home helping Mrs. White to keep her home in a more orderly condition, for a home ought to be Our Home Law and Order League.

"That a husband should keep neighbors' children as well as cousins from coming into the house all hours of the day, tracking mud into the home, and making tents out of bed clothing in the parlor, and that a husband should prevent his wife from being mocked by her mother-in-law or any other relatives when she calls her children to come into the house.

"Respectfully submitted by: "MRS. MARY WHITE.

"6211 West Eddy street, Dunning, Ill." When Judge Sabath had read Mrs. White's articles, he said:

"I cannot ask any man to sign these. They have many good points, and I intend to keep these recommendations, for many of the ideas contained in them are good, but as a whole they are too rigorous."

The judge placed Mr. White under a $500 peace bond.

The Whites are the parents of five children—Leslie, 18 months; David, 3 years; Ernest, 5 years; Joseph, 7 years and Grace, 10 years old.

Louis Bast of Mahanoy City, Pa., when rescued from a mine cave-in the other day, was found to have snow-white hair which had been coal black 24 hours before.
